AFRICA'S WATER DEVELOPMENT NEEDS

Nico Pieterse
Vice President

It was a privilege to attend a recent workshop in Johannesburg, South Africa on Sustainable Water Resources which had been organized by the African Development Bank (ADB) and the African Development Bank (AfDB) and the African Development Bank (AfDB) in order to share the experience of the African Development Bank (AfDB) in the water sector. The South African Department of Water Affairs and Forestry and the Department of Environmental Affairs and Forestry of the African Development Bank (AfDB) were the main sponsors of the workshop. The AfDB is a member of the African Development Bank (AfDB) and the African Development Bank (AfDB) is a member of the African Development Bank (AfDB).

As a Vice President of the AfDB, I was pleased to participate in this workshop and to share my views on the water resources development and management in Africa. Some of the key messages from the workshop are as follows:

- 1. Africa is a continent with a high potential for water resources development and management.
- 2. Africa is a continent with a high potential for water resources development and management.
- 3. Africa is a continent with a high potential for water resources development and management.
